NO SHOW POLICY-PLEASE KEEP THIS COPY

If, for any reason, you are not able to keep your appointment, please call our office to reschedule or cancel at least 24 hours in advance so that someone else may benefit from the appointment slot. Failure to call to cancel an appointment within s 24-hour time frame will result in a $65 charge.

This is NOT covered by medical insurance.

If you have questions regarding your late fee charge or feel you are being charged unfairly, please contact our office manager at 757-253-0371.

PRIVACY & CONFIDENTIALITY

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION

PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY. THE PRIVACY OF YOUR MEDICAL INFORMATION IS IMPORTANT TO US.

OUR LEGAL DUTY

We are required by applicable federal and state laws to maintain the privacy of your protected health information. We are also required to give you this notice about our privacy practices, our legal duties, and your rights concerning your protected health information. We must follow the privacy practices that are described in this notice while it is in effect. This notice takes effect April 14, 2003, and will remain in effect until we replace it.

We reserve the right to change our privacy practices and the terms of this notice at any time, provided that such changes are permitted by applicable law. We reserve the right to make the changes in our privacy practices and the new terms of our notice effective for all protected health information that we maintain, including medical information we created or received before we made the changes.

You may request a copy of our notice (or any subsequent revised notice) at any time. For more information about our privacy practices, or for additional copies of this notice, please contact us using the information listed at the end of this notice.

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

As a general rule, I will disclose no information obtained during your therapy relationship with me, or the fact that you are my patient, except with your written consent. However, if I believe that you are at imminent risk for harming yourself or someone else, I will disclose information to the extent needed for insuring your safety or others.

Other possible exceptions to confidentiality include the following:

1. Virginia laws require therapists to release information in certain circumstances:

a) Virginia therapists are required by law to report certain information. Suspicion of abuse or neglect of a child or of an aged or incapacitated adult must be reported to the Department of Social Services. If you provide me with information that someone licensed by a Health Regulatory Board is engaging in illegal practice or unprofessional conduct, then I must advise you of your right to report such misconduct to the Department of Health Professions. Psychologists must report to the Board of Psychology any known or suspected licensed psychologist who has violated Virginia laws or regulations governing the practice of psychology. If the Board of Medicine licenses you, I am required to report that you are receiving therapy if I believe that your condition places the public at risk.

b) Virginia law imposes upon therapists the legal duty to protect other members of society from harmful actions by their patients. Voiced threat or direct harm to another person can result in notification of the potential victim, law enforcement officers, and/or others as specified by statute.

c) In Virginia court cases, exceptions to therapist-patient privilege may apply in a criminal case, a child abuse case, and court case in which your mental health is a relevant issue, and/or any case in which the judge "in the exercise of sound discretion, deems it necessary to the proper administration of justice" that information communicated to a therapist be admitted as evidence. This means that others may sometimes issue a subpoena seeking either treatment records or testimony from your present or former therapist as evidence in a court case (including child custody cases). If I receive such a subpoena, I will inform you immediately and, with your consent, will cooperate with your attorney in filing motions to quash the subpoena and requesting that the confidentiality of the therapy relationship be protected. However, only the judge may decide whether or not the requested information or records must be disclosed.

d) Virginia law also allows certain others to request access to information or treatment records in specific circumstances. These include Protective Service Workers to whom I have reported suspicion of abuse or neglect, if they so request; Court-Appointed Special Advocates in child abuse or neglect proceedings, if the court so orders; and evaluators for minors' involuntary commitment to inpatient treatment. In such cases, I will make every attempt to limit the information disclosed by substituting an oral or written report.

e) If you are under 18 years of age, Virginia law allows your parents to request information and/or records related to your treatment, however, the Federal Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act protects the privacy of alcohol and treatment records in every state.

2. Business and operational activities may, at times, involve providing your protected health information to others:

a) When I am on vacation or away from the office for extended periods of time, a colleague may cover my practice and take emergency calls. If s/he will need information about you in order to be prepared to assist you in my absence; you and I will discuss that plan in advance.

b) To insure that I am providing quality care, I sometimes meet with an office colleague to get additional ideas on how to enhance treatment effectiveness.

c) I may call you by name in the waiting room when I am ready to see you.

d) WCFT office staff have access to the information necessary for preparing monthly statements, submitting insurance claims, and OTR's to insurance company treatment plan reviewers.

e) We may contact you by phone or mail to remind you of your appointment or to reschedule you for a different appointment time.

3. You must decide whether to give consent for me to release information to an insurance company (or other third party payor) in order to receive reimbursement. I am required to provide information about dates of treatment, type of treatment, treatment goals, and the nature of your problem (diagnosis). Subsequently, I may be required to submit Outpatient Treatment Reports. I will be happy to review these with you at your request, during our treatment sessions. I will submit them only with your consent. Requests for further information will be discussed with you as they arise. You should be aware that, once part of the insurance company files, in all probability some of it will be computerized. I have no control over how that information might be used or re-released. In some cases, the information about your treatment may be shared with a national medical information data bank. Virginia law also allows third party payors to re-release certain information to others in certain circumstances without your consent, potentially including the employer who provides your health care plan.

PATIENT INFORMATION

I am a licensed therapist in the Commonwealth of Virginia practicing at Williamsburg Centre For Therapy. The following information describes our office policies and specifies the terms of our agreement for the provision of psychological services.

CONFIDENTIALITY: As a general rule, I will disclose no information obtained during your contract with me, or the fact that you are my patient, except with your written consent. However, there are certain limits to this rule of confidentiality, as described on pages 2 and 3, or as otherwise specified by law.

PAYMENT FOR SCHEDULED SESSIONS (see page 5): You are expected to pay for each session at its scheduled time, unless you have medical insurance coverage which requires another arrangement. Co-payments are due at each visit. Other payment arrangements require prior written agreement with Williamsburg Centre For Therapy. If you fall behind in your payments and have not made any other arrangements with Williamsburg Centre For Therapy, we will contact Best Collection Agency and provide them with information necessary for recovering the balance due. If this occurs, you will be responsible for paying all collection fees and court costs that accrue.

CANCELLATIONS AND NO SHOWS: If, for any reason, you are not able to keep your appointment, please call our office to reschedule or cancel at least 24 hours in advance so that someone else may benefit from the appointment slot. Failing to call in a cancellation results in unnecessary down time for our therapists and prevents other patients from being seen.

OUR POLICY IS: Failure to call to cancel an appointment at least 24 hours in advance will result in a $65 charge. This is NOT covered by medical insurance.

If you have questions regarding your no show charge or feel you are being charged unfairly please contact our office manager at 757-253-0371.

TELEPHONE CONTACT: I can be contacted for consultation regarding a personal or family crisis or other matters related to your treatment. However, there can be a charge for this Professional Service (see attached fee schedule). Scheduling concerns, billing and payments, etc. can be discussed with the office manager, other office staff or in person with me, during our sessions.

I can be reached at Williamsburg Centre For Therapy on weekdays at (757) 253-0371. If I am in session our office staff will accept your message. If I am unable to promptly return your call it will be due to my full schedule or situations that require me to be away from the office. I will make every effort to return your call on the same day you make it, with the exception of weekends and holidays. If you are unable to reach me and feel that you can't wait for me to return your call, contact your family physician or the nearest emergency room and ask for the doctor on call. If I will be unavailable for an extended time, I will provide you with the name of a colleague at Williamsburg Centre For Therapy to contact, if necessary.

PATIENT RIGHTS

Access: You have the right to look at or get copies of your protected health information, with limited exceptions. You must make a request in writing to your therapist to obtain access to your protected health information. You may also request access by sending us a letter to the address at the end of this notice. We are not required to agree to these additional restrictions, but if we do, we will abide by our agreement (except in an emergency). Any agreement we may make to a request for additional restrictions must be in writing signed by a person authorized to make such an agreement on our behalf. We will not be bound unless our agreement is so memorialized in writing.

We may deny your request if we did not create the information you want amended or for certain other reasons. If we deny your request, we will provide you a written explanation. DOCUMENTATION OF PATIENT'S INFORMED CONSENT FOR TREATMENT AND REPSONSIBILITY FOR PAYMENT OF SERVICES RECEIVED

Your first few sessions will involve an evaluation of your needs. By the end of the evaluation, I will be able to offer you some initial impressions of what your work may include. You should evaluate this information along with your own assessment about whether you feel comfortable working with me.

I understand that we will begin with an evaluation of my needs, and that my therapist is not obligated to accept a referral. I understand that psychotherapy is not an exact science, and that no guarantees are being made as to the result or evaluation of my treatment. As a participant in my treatment, I share the responsibility for the process, including goal setting and termination. I understand that, through the process of treatment, I may be working toward changes which may cause me to experience many different and intense feelings, some of which may be painful. Also, I understand that when I make changes in myself, I may experience changes in other areas of my life (i.e. family, work, social life, etc.). I am aware that every change potentially has both positive and negative effects, and that an important part of treatment will be to clarify and evaluate potential effects of changes before undertaking them.

I understand that therapy involves a large commitment of time, money, and energy, and that therefore it is important to select a therapist carefully. I know that if I have any questions about my therapist's policies or procedures, I can discuss them whenever they arise and that, if I request it, my therapist will help me to secure an appropriate consultation with another mental health professional.

I agree that I am personally responsible for the payment of any balance remaining on my account after payment toward said account by my insurance company. In the event that there is no insurance coverage or if for any reason my insurance company refuses to pay any charges reflected on my account, I agree that I am personally responsible for the entire amount of my account. I understand that I will be billed for a missed session if not canceled or rescheduled 24 hours prior to the appointment time and that my insurance company will not pay for any missed sessions or telephone contacts. I am aware that Gwyn, from this office, will file claims with my insurance company and handle all other billing. If my account becomes delinquent for a period of 90 days, I understand that a collection agency may be contacted to obtain the full balance and that this will necessitate providing the agency with information necessary to recover the balance. If my account becomes assigned to a collection agency, I agree to pay all costs of collections including agency and attorney fees.

By signing below, I agree to begin treatment, and accept responsibility for payment for services provided. I have read about the potential limits of confidentiality as described on the sheet entitled PRIVACY & CONFIDENTIALITY including those imposed by Williamsburg Centre For Therapy's office policies and by state law and I understand the policies described on the PATIENT INFORMATION sheet. I accept these as conditions of receiving psychological services. I understand that I can discuss these or any other concerns with my therapist at any time.
